FORM 2. PERSONAL STATEMENT

Good day My name is Maryam Asda . I was born on May 15, 2007. I started my high school studies in 2021 and graduated in 2024 from the 13th Secondary School. I am very passionate about technology and programming, and I am interested in how innovation can change people's lives. From my early years in high school, I discovered my strong interest in programming, even though my school did not have many technical resources. Instead of giving up, I downloaded programming applications on my phone and computer and started learning by myself. This experience made me more confident, independent, and responsible for my own learning.

I chose to study in South Korea because it is one of the most advanced countries in technology and programming. Korea is not only a leader in technology but also has a rich culture and history. What inspires me the most is the hard work and determination of Korean people, and I try to follow these values in my own life. I believe that studying in Korea will help me grow academically and personally, not only through classes but also by interacting with people and being part of an international environment.

During the online learning period, I noticed how education changed and how students adapted to technology. When we returned to school, my interest in technology became even stronger. I became more curious about how digital tools and software can make learning more creative and effective. This experience inspired me to explore programming more and think about how technology can improve education and connect people together.

Other experiences also inspired me to choose this field. I worked with a group to make a small application to record daily tasks and remind users about them. I felt that using technology to make life easier is amazing, and it also helps people understand technology better. We also designed our graduation project—from covers to invitations—and it was exciting to create something different and share our creativity with others. These experiences made me realize that I want to create projects that help my country and people in general through technology.

I am also amazed by how programming languages can turn ideas into real and great things. I want to continue learning, especially to learn the Korean language, because it will allow me to communicate freely, express myself, and interact deeply with others in a language that is not my mother tongue. I believe that studying in Korea will make a big difference in my life, not only in technical knowledge but also through new cultural and language experiences. I think learning Korean and programming together will help me grow and open new opportunities for the future.

Despite the challenges I faced at school, I always looked for ways to improve my skills. I designed small projects and logos, which helped me develop my technical abilities. One of my most important experiences was representing my school in a national-level practical lesson during my second year of high school. I was chosen among the best students to present research and creative work. Preparing and presenting this project improved my confidence, teamwork, and presentation skills, which are essential for university life.

Besides studying, I participated in volunteer work and school events. These activities taught me responsibility, teamwork, and how to learn from mistakes. I also enjoy reading, drawing, technical design, and playing chess. Chess taught me patience, logical thinking, and planning, which I consider very important for a future software engineer. I was recognized with academic excellence certificates in mathematics and awards for discipline and volunteering. All of these experiences motivated me to reach higher levels and keep improving myself.

I am applying for the Global Korea Scholarship (GKS) because it is more than financial support. It is an opportunity for growth through education, cultural exchange, and personal development. Through this scholarship, I hope to receive high-quality education and training in leading Korean companies to gain strong practical experience. Learning the Korean language will also help me integrate into Korean society and understand its culture deeply.

My long-term goal is to become a software engineer who can create innovative projects and provide useful solutions for my community. I also want to contribute to developing technology in Yemen, where the number of programmers is still limited. I dream of building a bridge between Yemen and Korea through technology and innovation, sharing knowledge, opportunities, and digital growth between the two countries.

This goal comes from my experience in self-learning technology, school projects, and seeing innovations at events like the LEAP exhibition in Riyadh. I saw Korean and international companies showcasing their AI and programming technologies. This inspired me to improve my skills, learn from global standards, and understand how technology works in real life. I believe that combining technical innovation with human values is the best way to make real and lasting change.

I am confident that studying in South Korea through the GKS program will be a very meaningful experience. Korean people are known for their determination, openness, and respect for other cultures, and I am excited to learn from these values. Being accepted into this scholarship will not only help me achieve my academic goals but will also start a long journey of learning, creativity, and making change on a global level.

Through this experience, I hope to learn new skills in programming and technology, develop my teamwork and critical thinking abilities, and find creative ways to solve problems. I also hope to use what I learn in my future projects to create practical and sustainable technological solutions that serve my community.

FORM 3. STUDY PLAN

Language Study Plan	Before going to Korea, I plan to prepare myself by using language learning apps to build a basic foundation in Korean. I will spend time learning simple vocabulary, common expressions, and important grammar rules. Some of the apps I will use are Duolingo, Memrise, LingQ, and HelloTalk. These apps will help me practice reading, writing, listening, and speaking so I can start my language journey early and make the move to intensive classes easier. This preparation will also help me get used to digital learning and build a good study habit before starting university. When I arrive in Korea, I will spend a full year studying the Korean language to make sure I can join my academic studies smoothly. I already have a 2B certificate from JUST TOEFL Academy, which shows my English level, and I will continue improving both my English and Korean skills. During this year, I will follow a clear plan that includes classroom lessons, self-study, practice, and learning from daily life. I will study about 3–4 hours each day, reading simple academic texts, practicing writing short essays and reports, listening to podcasts, and talking with classmates and teachers. I will also keep a small journal to write new words, sentences, and cultural notes, and review it to see my progress. Besides studying, I plan to join university clubs, language exchange programs, and cultural events to practice speaking and experience real life in Korea.
(Months 1–2): Building the Basics	(Months 5–7): Real Life Practice
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•Start beginner Korean classes to learn Hangul, basic grammar, and everyday words.</li> <li>•Practice reading, writing, listening, and speaking every day for about 3–4 hours.</li> <li>•Keep a small notebook to write new words and short sentences and review them</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•Work on writing short reports or essays in Korean.</li> <li>•Join school clubs, language exchange programs, or small group activities to practice in real situations.</li> <li>•Start small projects about culture or simple technical topics to learn useful terms.</li> </ul>
(Months 3–4): Getting Comfortable	(Months 8–9): Ready for University
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•Move to the next level of Korean classes.</li> <li>•Practice simple conversations with classmates and teachers every day.</li> <li>•Read easy stories or short academic texts to learn more vocabulary and improve</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•Focus on more advanced grammar, academic words, and technical terms related to my future major</li> <li>•Do a small final project or presentation in Korean to test my skills.</li> <li>•Take part in more university activities to prepare for classes and daily life.</li> </ul>

Goal of study	My goal is to become a skilled computer and software engineer who can use technology in a creative and helpful way. I want to learn programming, artificial intelligence, application development, and the latest trends in software. At the same time, I want to grow my creative skills so I can make projects that are useful and easy for people to use. I like the idea of solving real problems with technology. In the future, I want to create applications that support education, culture, and community development. To reach this goal, I plan to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>•Learn different programming languages, computer systems, and software design.</li><li>•Improve my problem-solving, critical thinking, and teamwork skills through study and practical projects.</li><li>•Combine creative design with technical knowledge to make simple and useful applications.</li><li>•Build strong habits in self-study, time management, and daily learning.</li><li>•Learn from Korean culture and technology to discover new ideas and global trends.</li><li>•Use my skills in a responsible way that helps people and society.</li><li>•Improve my Korean and English to communicate well in study, work, and daily life.</li></ul>
Study Plan
1st Year		3rd Year
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>•Study the basics of programming (such as Python and Java), computer systems, and software design.</li><li>•Work on small projects, like simple tools or educational applications.</li><li>•Spend daily time on self-study to improve logical thinking and programming skills.</li><li>•Practice good habits in time management and continuous learning.</li></ul>		<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>•Focus on topics like artificial intelligence, application development, user interface design, and cybersecurity.</li><li>•Start a small graduation project or research with a professor to create a helpful application.</li><li>•Join summer internships in software companies or labs to get real experience.</li><li>•Improve presentation and teamwork skills by working with classmates from different backgrounds.</li></ul>
2nd Year		4th Year
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>•Take more advanced courses such as data structures, databases, and object-oriented programming (OOP).</li><li>•Complete a medium project, such as creating a website or mobile app to solve a simple problem.</li><li>•Join programming competitions to gain practical experience and teamwork skills.</li><li>•Learn professional tools like Git and debugging programs to improve project quality.</li></ul>		<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>•Finish the final graduation project and write a full report about its steps and results.</li><li>•Do practical training in a software company to gain advanced technical skills.</li><li>•Prepare a professional portfolio and plan for future career opportunities.</li><li>•Develop leadership, decision-making, and problem-solving skills for the technology field.</li></ul>

Future Plan after Study	After I graduate, I want to work in Korea for one or two years. This will help me get good experience and learn from advanced companies. I want to see how real projects work and understand the work culture in Korea. This will also help me improve my skills in software development and problem-solving. During this time in Korea, I will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>•Use my knowledge in real projects.</li> <li>•Learn from professional people and improve my technical skills.</li> <li>•Build confidence to work alone and with a team.</li> </ul> After that, I will return to my country, Yemen. I want to create applications and technology projects that can help people in education and daily life. Technology in Yemen is still weak, so I want to bring new ideas and knowledge from Korea to improve it. I also want to inspire young people in my country to study technology and believe in their future. I hope to share what I learn and give them new chances. This scholarship is very important for me because it will give me a chance to grow, learn, and later help my community. I will continue to study, follow new technology trends, and always try to make solutions that are useful and sustainable for society.
